For the second time in a week, New Castle citizens were given the opportunity of witnessing a dazzling spectacle, as the Northern Pennsylvania Firemen's Association wound up its three-day convention on Saturday afternoon with a mammoth street parade which exceeded
all expectations.

Fifty-five surrounding communities were present with marchers, snappy bands, bugle
and drum corps, and fire apparatus, forming a procession over three miles long, which required two hours
and fifty minutes to traverse the city of march.

PA NEW OBSERVES

M. J. Dout, well known contractor, who lives out on the Butler
road, as been employed on the big state
capital being erected near Butler,
and this week hung up a record in laying concrete floors. His crew poured eleven hundred square feet
of concrete in eight hours.

There weren't any dry shultrons on the boys when they quit," he says.

Out one hundred men are employed on the building, according to Dout, and it is rapidly assuming shape. Nearly all the foundations are in, and work will begin this week
on the superstructure.

Commenting on the county fair
at Gettysburg, John Brinton of She-bang township, says it was the best ever attended here, but that the crowd was not what it should have been for such a good exhibition. He believes that better attendance could be secured by more extensive advertising.

Squire C. L. Zedaker of New Bedford was in New Castle watching the firemen's parade on Saturday. New Bedford is thinking of organizing a fire department, and the squire intended to get some pointers on the subject. He certainly got an idea.
New Bedford has had to call the New Wilmington fire department
for help on two occasions recently, which would indicate that
New Bedford needs a department of own.

Welfare Director, Edwin O. Reed, of the pleasure of attending the Republican rally held in Westmoreland county last week. He says that the attendance was wonderful,
and that members of the party down
at way feel confident that the
O. P. will elect all of the tickets
November. All of the candidates
oke at the rally.

Keeping a dog on a leash to hold an idea to some mothers. In

Mother And Son Burned As Fire Destroys Barn

Mrs. Joseph Ellgass, Of Potter Run Road, Near Vol-

Escape

LOSE ENTIRE SEASON'S CROP

Mrs. Joe Ellgass, of the Potter
Run Road, east of Volant is in the New Castle hospital, suffering from burns about the face and arm, sustained when fire destroyed the barn
on the old John A. Black farm, where the Ellgass family resides, at noon Sunday. The entire season's crops were destroyed by the blaze,
along with harness and other farm equipment, entailing a loss of $3,000
to $6,000, which was not covered by insurance. Mrs. Ellgass' son Glen, aged 16, was painfully burned about the face and hands when he rescued his mother.

The fire is believed to have started from spontaneous combustion
among the hay, and within a short time after it was discovered had turned the barn into a roaring furnace. Mrs. Ellgass received her injuries when she went into the barn to try and save the harness. She was overcome and had not her son been right on the spot, might have been burned to death. The youth was badly scorched in saving his mother.

It was stated at the New Castle

Newspaper Says Hitler Rejects All Mediation

(International News Service)
PARIS, Aug. 29.—In a sensational first page spread characterized as a
"world scoop," the newspaper Paris-Midi charged today that Reichsfuhrer Adolf Hitler has rejected all mediation in Czechoslovakia and concluded a plan for virtual absorption of that country's Teutonic population.

If successful, Midi declared, this will be the forerunner of similar action in Russia, Holland and Belgium to bring all Germans living outside the borders of the Reich under the swastika.

The Midi's sensational article reached the news-stands as the French cabinet prepared for a series of important meetings to deal with the central European situation and with a new dispute between France and Fascist Italy.

Fireman Killed By Speeding Auto

(International News Service)
EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Aug. 29.—
A motorist who ran down and fatally injured James McGaughey, 37,
a fireman, of Vandergrift, Pa., and disappeared after helping place the dying man in an ambulance, was sought by police today.

McGaughey was killed while returning home from a firemen's celebration at Chester, W. Va., in which the Vandergrift department had participated. He was standing in the road directing traffic on the Lincoln highway with a flashlight
after a minor accident which struck by the car near McLaughlin's Corners, over the border in Pennsylvania. He died in the city hospital here five hours later.

mistakes, John Roosevelt, youngest son of the president, today launched his career in the business world.

His job was that of stock boy,
carrying merchandise in the crowd-

below the ground up, he hopes to land eventually in the advertising department.

INQUEST IS SET FOR WEDNESDAY

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—Two engineers appointed by State Secretary of Welfare Charles I. Engard and two state troopers today were to conduct scientific tests in the
"isolation" chamber at Holmesburg prison where four striking convicts
were literally "roasted" to death
last week.

Coroner Charles E. Hersh will examine the experts' findings at a conference later in the day. The convicts, after a three-day strike against food conditions, were placed in a 50 by 15-foot building containing seven long radiators. The team was turned on, reaching an estimated 200 degrees temperature and four of 25 inmates died of "asphyctic
heat stroke."

To Determine Facts.
From today's tests, Coroner Hersh expects to learn the degree of heat reached when all radiators are turned
on. The experiments will round

Roosevelt Endorsed Candidate Defeated In Texas Runoff

(International News Service)
DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 29.—Final returns from Texas' run-off Democratic primary Saturday today showed Rep. W. D. McFarlane, endorsed by President Roosevelt for re-election to congress, had been beaten.

Ed Gossett, who campaigned in district 19 on a promise not to be a rubber-stamp legislator, won over Rep. McFarlane. Nomination is tantamount to election in rock-ribbed Democratic Texas.

A newcomer to politics, Lindsey Beckworth, only 25 years of age,
overcame seasoned campaigner Brady Gentry in the battle for the place in congress held by Morgan
Sanders, defeated in the first primary. Sanders was chairman of the powerful house ways and means committee and accounted a strong supporter of the Roosevelt administration.

Fred L. Rentz Gives Recollections Of Church As It Was Years Ago

Competing with summer heat and vacation season for audiences, St.
Paul's Lutheran church had a most delightful day celebrating the 90th anniversary on the very day of its founding, August 28.

The speakers at the three services
were the Rev. H. H. Bagger, D. D., president of the Pittsburgh Synod;
the Rev. John Folsel of Cleveland,
O., and four sons of the congregation, Rev. Walter T. Hempel of Mc-Donald, Pa.; Rev. W. Robert Miller
of Ringtown in eastern Pennsylvania; Student John P. Shuman, son of the present pastor, and capping the climax of the feast of good things was a talk by Fred L. Rentz, a son of former members. The latter brought the story of "The Little German Church on Grant Street" of 50 and 60 years ago which many of the members of today hardly knew anything about, vividly recalling the personnel of the membership of that day as being the leading citizens of the city, also describing the appointments of the original old church building itself of which is today unknown to most of the members
today. Happily among those present at the homecoming were some

Treat Cases At First Aid Station

Red Cross First Aid Workers Kept Busy During Firemen's Convention

Approximately 20 patients were treated at the first aid station maintained at central fire station by the American Red Cross, under the direction of Chairman of First Aid H.
J. Cullford, it was reported.

Most of those treated had received small cuts and bruises. One of the marchers in the parade suffered cuts of the instep when her feet swelled up from marching and the straps cut into the flesh.

Chairman Cullford had a large force of first aiders on the job and they were able to take care of the situation nicely.

Hitler Cuts His Holiday Short

(International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 29.—Abandoning plans for a holiday at his Bavarian mountain retreat, Chancellor Hitler
arrived unexpectedly today at Kehl,
Germany, just across the border
from Strasbourg, according to a Reuter dispatch from the French frontier town.

Hitler, who is touring German army regions, arrived at Kehl at 9
a. m., the report stated, adding that the frontier between Strasbourg and Kehl was immediately closed and all traffic suspended.

Accompanied by eight generals,
Hitler inspected the fortifications
on either side of the Kehl bridge,
according to the report.

HOPES FOR HEED TO SHARP WARNING

Aggression In Czechoslo-

European War Is Threat

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The immediate peace of all Europe hung in the balance
once again today as Great Britain pressed upon Nazi Germany the urgent need for a favorable response to her warning that aggression in Czechoslovakia will mean a general European war, with England fighting on the side of Democracy.

To bolster this warning, high ranking officials of the British government launched upon a series of important diplomatic conversations aimed at inducing Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler to heed the sharp warning sounded by Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir John Simon at Lanark, Scotland, Saturday.

Charge May Blow Over

If he does so, it is believed the Czech crisis will blow over for the present.

If not, it is feared Europe faces
the most destructive war in history.

Following a morning of diplomatic discussions, it was authoritatively announced that Britain's attitude remains one of hopefulness that everyone concerned will be prepared to make contributions toward a satisfactory settlement.

Meanwhile, it was said, Britain is continuing to use her best efforts in that direction.

Charge Sudeten Leader Affronted

German Press Report Claims Henlein "Insulted" By Czech Soldiers

TENSION RISES ON CZECH BORDER

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—The breast-beating dispute between Berlin and Prague over the autonomy demands of Czechoslovakia's 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans reached a new shrill crescendo today amid charges that Sudeten leader Konrad Henlein had been affronted.

A German press report stated that Henlein, chief spokesman of Chancellor Hitler in Czechoslovakia, was
"insulted" by Czech soldiers.

The officially inspired report added
that a sharp German protest over this incident was expected to be lodged with the Prague government.

Excitement And Tension Rose On Czech Border

Excitement and tension rose on each side of the Czech border as a result of the charge, which was flung into the controversy only a few hours after Germany proclaimed
the unity of the Sudeten Germans
with the people of the Nazi Reich.
The proclamation was designed to counter-act British "encouragement"
to the Czechs, allegedly expressed by Sir John Simon in his British foreign policy speech Saturday.

When Hitler arrived at Kehl, all Nazi storm troops there were immediately mobilized to maintain order.

According to Reuter, his visit was a total surprise and the townsfolk did not even have a chance to hang out welcoming flags or make provisions for an official reception.

The inspection of Hitler's defenses ended at 10 a. m. and Hitler departed at once in the direction of Of-tenburg.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 29.—
Calling for the political life-blood of Senators Millard Tydings, of Maryland, and E. D. "Cotton Ed" Smith,
of South Carolina, President Roosevelt packed to return to Washington today and continue his efforts to purge the Democratic party of anti-new dealers.

Shortly before midnight, the president was enroute for the national capital where he will devote part of the coming week to preparations of a Labor Day speech at Denton, Md., which was expected to voice a na-

all Democratic aspirants to high of-

Legion Band To Play For Parade

State And National Championship Outfit Will Head "Sales Mean Jobs" March

Members of the national and state championship band, the Junior band
of the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, will head the parade which is being staged this evening in connection with the "Sales Mean Jobs" campaign. The band will meet at the Legion Home promptly at 6:30 o'clock to be ready for the march.

The band has seen plenty of action since returning from the State
American Legion convention a week ago, having been in both the Elks and Firemen's parades.

Many people do not seem to understand how the band could be tied for championship honors at the state convention of the American Legion, and the explanation given to band chairman Bob Cowell is that the committee which judged
the contestants, had inadvertently given the same score to each of three competing organizations, the local outfit, the West Pittsburgh, of Pittsburgh, Pa., band, and Johnstown. They left immediately after they had handed in their score sheets and when the points were totaled up, they were found to be identical. There was nothing left for the state convention committee
but to declare the three bands co-holders of the championship.

The West Pittsburgh band was champion last year, New Castle not competing on that occasion.

GRANT PERMITS

City Engineer Glenn R. Throop
today issued a permit to Jane Spear,

G. Reese, 715 West North street, a permit to remodel a dwelling at a cost of $35, and also to Sam Stuart, 431 Court street, to remodel a garage,
at a cost of $40.

Mass Meeting Here Tonight To Boost Sales

Big Crusade To Speed Up
Business In New Castle
Area Is Launched

PARADE TO MOVE AT SEVEN O'CLOCK

Expect Large Crowd To Gather At Taggart Stadium For Program

New Castle's "Sales Mean Jobs" campaign will be officially launched this evening at 7:30 at Taggart stadium with a gigantic public mass meeting.

A colorful parade, at 7 o'clock will precede the program at Taggart stadium.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce and 10 other trade and business groups, sponsors of the rally, have arranged a program which includes band concerts, radio artists and an address by Dr. G. W. Allison, nationally known sales counselor of New York, who will explain the workings of the crusade. Climaxing the affair,
will be distribution of valuable prizes
and a fireworks display. Local cooperative organizations are giving away the awards.

Most Work Way Out

In commenting on the campaign,
L. B. Round, general chairman said today: "The crusade, in my mind, is a spiritual approach to an economic problem. It has been evidence that people of New Castle and other cities in the country have no way out of the present dilemma except by work. We must do it ourselves.
The kick-off is at 7:00 from the American Legion Home. We want everyone to attend the meeting. The crusade is constructive action against action."

So much enthusiasm has been displayed locally that the Junior Chamber of Commerce office was swamped today with calls requesting materials, details and displays relative to the campaign. Final plans for tonight's meeting were completed
Sunday. The meeting tonight is free to the public.

During council meeting in the city hall this morning, Mayor Charles E. McGrath suggested that not only councilmen but also city employees participate in tonight's parade.

Councilman J. Leon Fink submitted

The school bell yawns a sleepy yawn, and rubs its eyes and tries to wake, its almost time to go to work, the day is almost here to selves and get to school in time for class. Ah me how fast the summer goes, how quick the golden hours pass. For several months the bell has slept, unheeding of the passing

time, but suddenly vacation's done,
and pretty soon the morning chime will chase the youngsters back to school, will call them from their summer play to "readin', 'ritin',

End Chase For Post Office Robbers

Arrest Three On Robbery Charges

Postal Inspector Says Gang Responsible For Cracking Numerous Safes

HUNT IN PROGRESS FOR FOUR YEARS

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 28.—Arrests of three men have ended a four-year chase for a gang of postoffice robbers operating in Western Pennsylvania and New York. Postal Inspector D. H. Stephens announced today.

The three under arrest are James Martin, 39, alias the "millionaire kid," Clifford Mahar, 33, of Erie, and Joseph Kelly, 30, according to Stephens.

Reputed Safe Cracker
Martin, a parole violator and reputed expert as a safe cracker, was arrested in a "hobo" camp at Punxsutawney, Stephens said. He surrendered without a fight, according to Stephens.

Questioning of Martin at the Butler county jail resulted in the arrest of Mahar, said to be a saloonkeeper at Erie. Mahar was brought to Pittsburgh for further questioning.

Kelly, also a parole violator, is now in the Western Penitentiary, serving a term for a holdup at Meadville last winter. He was arrested at Rochester, N. Y., and returned to Pennsylvania.

The gang is responsible for stealing thousands of dollars from postoffices and stores chiefly by cracking safes, according to Stephens. Mahar is also wanted at St. Marys, Pa., for blowing a safe there at a brewery.

Apart from pressing domestic political considerations of the current campaign, the president was returning to Washington to confer with Secretary of State Cordell Hull over the increasingly ominous European situation. Here at Hyde Park the executive has kept in immediate touch with the threat of war arising from the German-Czechoslovakian crisis.

The president's immediate concern was the outcome of tomorrow's primary in South Carolina. Last-minute withdrawal of State Senator Edgar A. Brown from the three-cornered senatorial race prompted the state's electorate to defeat a candidate (Senator Smith) who "thinks in terms of the past and governs his actions accordingly."

planned to proceed northward on his minute inspection tour during the German army maneuvers. Belief that a peaceful gesture by Hitler would eliminate the possibility of war for the time being was predicted on the firm British belief that the Sudeten Germans themselves, if relieved of pressure by the Fuehrer, will agree to discuss the new minority proposals of President Edouard Benes' government.

These provide for establishment of semi-autonomous cantons in the Czechoslovakia along Swiss lines. For decades, Switzerland has reconciled the divergent political viewpoints of its minorities and heterogeneous nationalities by such a system.

Diplomatic Maneuvers

The diplomatic maneuvers here were set in motion when Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain called his ambassador in Berlin, Sir Neville Henderson, back to London for a first-hand report on Hitler's plans. At the same time, he summoned a special cabinet session for tomorrow.

Official efforts to diminish importance of this meeting by calling it a mere "meeting of ministers" instead of a full-dress session with all under-secretaries present, deceived no one.

It is rare indeed that British cabinet officers are summoned back to Downing street from their holidays, and the events of the past few days have convinced the man in the street that sinister and shocking developments, instead of mere jitters, alarmist rumors, are responsible.

The public gathering evidence of its own concern by gathering in crowds in the narrow confines of Downing street today as diplomats and statesmen passed in and out of that famous door. Chamberlain was accompanied by his wife, credited herself with being one of the suavest diplomats operating unofficially for Britain today.

who not only remember the old church but who still have pictures of it and will lend same for copying to preserve together with the historical data of the past 90 years for future use, and possible publication. A register was kept at the anniversary services of the autographs of all those attending, which itself will be historical data.

The interior of the church building was newly re-decorated and carpeted and beautifully set off with seasonal flowers sent by members and friends. The church choir rendered anthems at the morning and evening services specially prepared for this occasion and the Frohman Damen choir sang at the afternoon service. These choirs added greatly to the beauty and success of the services.

Grateful acknowledgment is made by the pastor to all who helped to make the anniversary services a success by their services and presence.

out a week of investigation including questioning of eight Holmesburg prison guards reportedly responsible for placing the prisoners in the isolation cell.

"An inquest into the four deaths will be held Wednesday," said Hersh, "and immediately after that at least eight arrests will be made." The coroner declared earlier that investigators knew the name of the man who "ordered the heat turned on" and said his identity would probably be made known at the inquest.

Meanwhile at Harrisburg, Gov. George H. Earle asked a complete report from Coroner Hersh on the alleged "torment" deaths and summoned the coroner and Engard to a conference at the capital today. Hersh declined to attend the meeting, but it was believed Engard would meet later with the governor.

Kallie Foutz ... admires new nose

Winner of a "make the most of yourself" contest conducted by a magazine, Kallie Foutz, 24, of Salt Lake City, Utah, admires her new nose in a New York hospital, the first step in a "glamorizing" process. Miss Foutz's prize was a trip to New York and a complete overhauling. She is a great-granddaughter of the Mormon, Brigham Young.

and little children, tied on leashes. And why not, it's certainly a lot safer to have a string on a child than have it on the street, where it may be killed by an automobile. Pa New heard a woman say she wouldn't tie her little boy, aged two, up like a dog, but when her neighbor asked her, where he was at that moment, she didn't know.

Venango county is hanging up a record for safe motoring. During more than three weeks there has not been a serious automobile collision in the county. The state motor police, checking over the record, say it has been the best of which they have any record. The principal reason for this safety record, seems to be that both local officers and the state police have been carefully checking traffic. This has become pretty generally known, and as a result drivers are more careful.

Pa New notes with pleasure that a Transfer boy, Charles Myers, 16, was tops in the 4-H sweet corn round-up. The young farmer, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Myers, had the highest yield among 31 participants. He raised 263 dozen roasting ears from three pounds of seed on a quarter of an acre of ground. It would seem that an achievement like this is worthy of as much commendation as the feat of a man who breaks the speed record on the salt flats, or flies the biplane deep. Charles Myers has in him the stuff of which real farmers are made.

Pennsylvania has a state bird, a state flower and a state tree, and now someone suggests that the mosquito be made the state insect. Campers who have been out along our streams this summer may not be so keen to honor the mosquito.

Strange motorists on the highways in the vicinity of New Castle must have been quite curious on Saturday when they passed so many fire trucks. More than 50 pieces of fire apparatus came into New Castle from other communities over the highways, on Saturday.

Lawns and trees are beginning to show the effects of the lack of rainfall during the past two weeks or so.

Attend the mass meeting at Taggart stadium tonight. Co-operation of the sort being emphasized means much to every citizen of New Castle.

Decorations which lined the downtown streets for the past two weeks for the two conventions that the city entertained during the week, were removed over the week end. New Castle and Lawrence county will now get ready for the next big holiday, next Monday—Labor Day.

With a few more parades here, the confetti and paper tossing idea would reach big league proportions. Huge amounts of torn paper were showered on the firemen who paraded here on Saturday afternoon. The street department employees were on the job Saturday night, however, and the streets were cleared for Sunday morning.

Last week of vacation for the boys and girls of New Castle. School opens for the fall on Wednesday of next week.

Attracting much attention in the firemen's parade were the three little mascots of the Pitcairn Fire Department. The three little dogs, two white and one brown, were appropriately named—Hook, Ladder and Nozzle.

If the weatherman doesn't turn around and warm things up, we are going to have a light frost some of these nights. The temperature early this morning was pretty close to that point, standing at 42 degrees at one of the New Castle domiciles.

Blaze reflected in the sky to the north of the city near midnight on Saturday was the result of a fire that destroyed a large barn on the farm of the Mercer county home, near Mercer.

Westminster Monday closed a deal for the rental of Wyatt's Lodge as a college dormitory for sixty sophomore girls, according to William Schuster, college business manager. The honored one was the recipient of many lovely gifts from his friends as to remind him of the happy occasion.

At a suitable time, the hostess invited the guests into the dining room where clever seasonal favors marked each place and a large birthday cake centered the table. She was assisted in the serving by Mrs. Anna Mann.

ANN CIOFFI BECOMES BRIDE OF JOHN BULLANO

Quiet and impressive was the wedding ceremony performed in the St. Vitus church Saturday morning, Aug. 27, at 9:30 a. m.

Miss Ann Cioffi, daughter of Mrs. Antoinette Cioffi of 1101 South Mercer street, became the bride of John Bullano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bullano of Maitland street.

In the presence of a throng of relatives and friends they exchanged vows, with the Rev. Fr. Butler officiating. He used the single ring service.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Dominick Cioffi, was a picture of loveliness in her regal wedding gown of white mouseline, made with a girlish waist and long sleeves. Her long veil was sprinkled with tiny clusters of valley lilies, tied with small white ribbons. It was caught in cap effect, with a crescent of matching flowers. Her bouquet was made of white tea roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Rose Didiano was matron of honor and her only attendant. She was lovely in a peach tulle gown, toe length, with a bolero jacket. Her accessories were in silver and she carried an arm bouquet of peach roses.

John Exposito of this city served the groom as best man.

Preceding the approach of the bride party Mrs. Elizabeth Lacko contributed a half hour program of nuptial music. The church altar was decorated with ferns and gladioli.

Supplementing the ceremony, a breakfast was served at the home of the bride. Aides in serving were Mrs. A. Catalano, Mrs. J. Fanella, Mrs. S. Markovitz, Mrs. D. Cioffi and Mrs. A. Cioffi. The all-white theme predominated throughout, and the large tiered wedding cake, surmounted with miniature figures, formed the centerpiece.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Cioffi wore a blue dress with matching accessories. The groom's mother was attired in a printed brown and white dress, with accessories to match this note.

At 12:30 in the afternoon the bride party gathered at a local hotel, where they enjoyed a wedding dinner.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Bullano departed on a wedding trip to New Jersey and other points of interest. For traveling the bride selected a black and white ensemble. Her shoulder corsage was of white gardenias. Upon their return they will reside at 1101 South Mercer street.

The bridegroom is an employee of the Panella Lumber company. Guests from Youngstown and Williamsport attended the wedding.

MANY TO ENTER FOR FIRST TIME

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of city schools, desires to correct an unauthorized statement that the public schools fall term would start on September 6. The correct date is September 7.

A general teachers meeting will be held September 6, at 10 a. m., at the senior high school building. At that time, announcements will be made in regard to the organization of the city schools for the current year, and the usual routine of business will be conducted. Following the general teachers meeting, the teachers will meet with their principals in regard to the organization of their individual schools.

New entrants will not be admitted to school unless they present certificates from a properly licensed physician, that the children have been successfully vaccinated.

For a child to have a successful year in school, he should be in good physical condition; hence it is good practice for parents to consult their family physicians where there is any question existing regarding the children's health.

The school buildings are in excellent physical condition. The superintendent of buildings and grounds and a large corps of workmen have been engaged during the summer months, in cleaning, renovating, and painting the various buildings.

While there will probably be a decrease in the enrollment among the elementary grades, the high school enrollment will be the largest in the history of New Castle. About 2400 pupils will be enrolled in the senior high school grades, it is estimated.

Woud-Be-Suicide Fails To Appear

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—Two dozen police and eight detectives today kept a vigil at the Grant building, one of the city's tallest, from whose parapets a discouraged, jobless youth had warned them by letter he would leap 479 feet to his death between noon and 1 p. m. today.

The hour appointed for the leap came but the would-be suicide failed to appear. As a precaution, police had locked all doors leading to stairways and questioned all suspicious looking people entering the building.

Police meanwhile continued their attempts to identify the letter writer.

TROLLEY BUSES
BANNED IN PARIS
AS 'IMPRACICAL'

(International News Service)
PARIS—Electric trolley buses for Paris have been condemned as "impractical."

The trolley buses so often seen in Italy and which have spread to Germany have been tested on a suburban line at Vitry for the past eight years and have been discarded.

Used by the dictatorial governments of Germany and Italy because of their low cost and use of electricity instead of gasoline, the trolley bus has been proven to be of no use in Paris traffic, the officials state, saying that when a street was being repaired it was found impossible to divert the trolley to another street.

AN APPRECIATION

August 27, 1938.
Mr. Fred L. Rentz, President,
New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Mr. Rentz:
New Castle Girl Scout Council expresses sincere appreciation to The News for generous publicity of camp news and other activities throughout the year.

We have received splendid co-operation and courtesy from members of your editorial staff, without which we could not have progressed so successfully in our endeavor to forward the Girl Scout movement.

Sincerely yours,
(Mrs. John A.) ADALENE EDGAR,
Publicity Chairman.

SPEAKS FOR ITSELF

August 27, 1938.
To Editor, The News,

Dear Sir:
It is my belief that if you will print this letter it may do a little good.

During both parades this week, I stood in front of the same drug store. Now, I happen to know that all the clerks in this store wanted to see these parades. But about a hundred people seemed to think differently. These very inconsiderate people decided all of a sudden that they had to have something. Most of them only wanted ice cream or sodas or something of that nature. This was especially true on Saturday.

Now I think that if these same people had to serve the public like these drug store clerks do, there would be quite a loud protest. Most people think they are quite superior to any kind of a clerk. I know this from experience.

When we have our next parade I hope to see people using a little common sense and treating their fellow towns-people with a little more consideration.

Very truly yours,
RAYMOND H. BUCKLEY,
502 Whippa St.,
New Castle, Pa.

This co-operation was "pledged after 1500 persons heard Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany and Fritz Kuhn, national leader of the German-American Bund in this country, denounced, Frank Bohn, honorary president of the league for culture, urged that a pro-Nazi camp near Andover, N. He condemned "Nazi hoodlums" and said that "the blustering strong-arm methods of Hitler are creating a nation of slaves."

Upon your child's eyesight largely depends the development of mentality, personality, character. Children who cannot see clearly do not learn readily. Gene Brooks

Beulah Honeycutt

Two young Tennessee wives who left home to lead a vagabond life are held at Fairfield, Ill., with an ex-convict accomplice on charges of having murdered Felix Shannon, 56, wealthy farmer, in a robbery attempt. Sheriff Ernest Burkett said the women, Gene Brooks, left, of Elizabethtown, and Beulah Honeycutt, right, of Johnson City, had confessed to shooting Shannon at his farm home after he had given them a ride. They claimed they had been urged on to do so by James Wallace, 38, ex-convict accomplice whom they blamed for instigating the plot.

City Engineer Gives Explanation

Throop Explains Catch Basin Condition in Glenmore Boulevard

Some time ago Streets Director W. H. Dunlap, introduced a resolution which council adopted, inquiring into the installation of catch-basins and man-holes in Glenmore boulevard which he claimed did not fit the grade of the curb of the boulevard. During council meeting in city hall today City Engineer Glenn H. Throop answered.

Throop wrote that when the sewer was built the street was not excavated to grade and to protect the city against damage by building the structure two or three feet above or below the natural grade, the tops were placed temporarily in such a manner so as to carry off the water and yet not create a dangerous hazard to traffic.

Throop wrote that if an examination were made of all WPA projects for street paving, you will find an item of labor for adjusting man-holes and catch-basins because it has always been standard practice to place catch-basins where they will do the most good on dirt streets.

"On every street we have paved during the past four years it has been necessary to make these adjustments," Throop concluded.

The communication was filed.

Firemen have Huge Parade In City Saturday

The parade moved out from Central fire station at 2:40 p. m. with a salute of aerial bombs, and the blast of the fire whistle, and it was exactly 3:30 p. m. when the last fire truck, that from New Bethlehem, Pa., which arrived long after the head of the parade had moved out, finally passed the reviewing stand at the corner of South and South Jefferson streets.

Many of the bands and bugle and drum corps were paying their second visit of the week to the city, as quite a number had been here on Thursday for the big parade of the Pennsylvania Elks. They moved along just as jauntily as they had on the previous occasion, only the line of march was just a little longer, but parades are all in the day's work for bands and bugle corps, particularly the crack outfits, and it didn't seem to bother them in the least.

Local folks found that firemen wear some snappy uniforms for such occasions, particularly the volunteer outfits, many of which had uniforms to match the color of their fire trucks. They also found that all fire trucks are not painted a bright red color. Some were white, some were blue, and some were bright orange.

Elwood Has Big Turnout
As on the occasion of the Elks parade, the sister city of Elwood City was out in full force with one of the snappiest junior musical organizations in the parade, the Veterans of Foreign Wars drum and bugle corps, which was easily the finest musical organization of its class in the parade. They also had a large delegation in the line of march with their fire apparatus.

Newest Apparatus
Titusville, Pa., was present with the newest piece of apparatus, a big service truck which had just been completed last week and had not yet been delivered to the new owners. Riding with the driver was James Lee, engineer, 75 years of age, who has seen service in the Titusville fire department for 59 years, and a member of the fire company which established a world's record which has never been equalled or beaten, so they claim, for laying a line of hose, coupling it, and delivering water from the nozzle.

Old Timers In Line
Lee was not the oldest fire fighter in the line of parade. That honor went to James Young, of Smithfield street, retired fire policeman of the New Castle department, who is 87 years of age. He can remember when the first fire engine came to New Castle, and although his memory is a little hazy with the weight of years, he can recall some famous old fires which took place here in years gone by, some which he helped extinguish.

Another old timer in the fire fighting business was Oscar Hartman of Meadville, ex-chief of the Meadville department, who has been fighting fires for 50 years, and is still active at the age of 74.

The oldest piece of apparatus was a Remington pumper, built in 1881, which is owned by the Conneautville department. It was a small, round tank, horse-drawn. When it reached the scene of the fire, the horses were unhitched, the tongue pulled out, and adjusted to the pump, after which one of the horses was attached and driven around the outside in a circle. It is still capable of pumping 400 gallons of water a minute, its owners claim, although not in active service.

Oldest Apparatus In Service
The oldest piece of apparatus, which is still doing active duty and which won the prize offered by the parade committee was the Wheatland fire truck.

The New Castle fire department, hosts to the convention, headed the parade with seven pieces of apparatus and the crews which man them, in their accustomed places, followed by over a hundred members of the various volunteer companies.

They were preceded by a corps of motorcyclists, state motor police, and members of Troop K, 103rd Cavalry, astride their mounts. Members of city council and the county commissioners also preceded them.

Immediately following were the retired members of the paid department, including ex-chief H. Clare Stockman, Duke Byers, Ralph Craig, and others from the volunteer companies, with Mr. Young, aged 87, and Robert H. Whaley, aged 84, among the most conspicuous.

Ex-sheriff Whaley, only surviving member of the famous Old Neshaunock baseball club, and Neshaunock fire company, formed in 1870, wore the suit of clothes which his father wore when he came to America 97 years ago. He retired from active fire fighting duty in 1888.

Some Comic Outfits
Then beside the regular fire fighting companies, there were some comic outfits which drew the laughter of the crowds, which lined the streets to view the mammoth spectacle. The one which received the award from the judges as the best comic outfit, was the "Skunk Holer" department, from East Liverpool, O.

With a piece of apparatus which as far as usefulness was concerned, couldn't have put out a fire, the outfit, which had been adopted from various ash heaps, it was accompanied by four of the most nondescript looking firemen one could imagine. The mascot was a four-foot blacksnake, and the crowd along the curb shuddered with apprehension for fear the reptilian pet would escape from its keeper, but it didn't and the apparatus held together until the end of the parade.

Glendale was also represented with a darktown brigade which won a prize, while Shonerville had a replica of the original "Shonerville Trolley," made famous by Fontaine Fox, whose cartoons appear daily in The News.

Shorty Gets Prize
The Springboro Rube band, still "tarin' to go, even though they furnished most of the music during the three days of the convention, was right there, and one of its members, Frank R. Ray, four feet 10 inches tall, copped the prize for the shortest fireman in the line of parade.

The marching firemen, ranged from Ray's diminutive height up to towering Blair Sloan, of North Apollo, Pa., whose six feet five and a half inches, slightly topped that of several others.

The Westlake Hose company, of Erie, organized just nine months ago, proved the baby outfit of the parade and advertised the fact with a baby carriage hauling a life-sized doll baby.

Beavers Falls called attention to the fact that it was here in 1900 for the firemen's convention, just 38 years ago. The Beaver Falls firemen were accompanied by the famous American Legion band from the Col. Joe Thompson post.

New Castle folks probably never knew there were as many different kinds of fire apparatus as were seen in the parade.

New Kensington had five pieces of apparatus, which included an ambulance, utility fire truck, squad car for hauling members to fires, first aid truck and pumper.

New Truck In Line
One of the newest pieces of fire apparatus was the truck of the Beaver Falls Department, which is entirely enclosed and with a streamlined body, something which will probably replace the present type of open body jobs now in almost general use.

North East, Pa., won the prize for the company coming the longest distance with a piece of apparatus. They are 107 miles away, but were closely pressed by Trafford City, New Bethlehem, Eden Park, a suburb of McKeesport, Harmer Twp., just outside Pittsburgh, and Homerville, in Mifflin township which lies between Homestead and Duquesne, Pa., Erie, Kittanning and many other places quite a distance away.

Meadville, with 250 men in the line of march, three bands, and one of their finest fire trucks, won the prize for the largest company of men in line for members of the Association, the best appearing company for members of the association, best first aid team and the largest company with music.

Meadville will be host to the convention next year, and they showed its appreciation of the fact with the best turnout of any city. Mayor Fred Whipple, and members of the city council headed the Meadville delegation.

Huge Crowd Sees Parade
The parade was witnessed by the largest crowd which has ever lined the streets of the city for a similar event. Along the entire line of march the streets were packed with a mob of cheering people, probably close to 30,000 persons witnessing the magnificent spectacle.

After the close of the parade, the visitors were guests of the local committee at a Dutch lunch and dance in the Grove St. Auditorium, and the convention program was closed with a splendid display of fireworks at Rotary Field.

The parade was in charge of Past President Frank E. Robinson, and President James E. Thomas of the Northern Pennsylvania Firemen's Association. It formed at General Fire Station, moved down South Jefferson and Moravia street to Long avenue, east on Long to Mill street, up Mill to Grove street, thence through the Erie railroad yards, to East Washington street, west on East Washington to the Diamond and down Jefferson street to Central fire station again, where it disbanded.

The judging of the competing companies was done from a reviewing stand at the corner of South street on South Jefferson, from which Presley Jones, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce announced the approach of the various companies and the dignitaries in line.

Judges
J. T. Stewart, of Turtle Creek, Pa., was chairman of the judges, and J. H. Beamler, of Manor, Pa., secretary. Assisting them were H. F. Steinforth, of Youngstown, O., Lee Johnston, of Youngstown, O., Theodore Washak, of Manor, Pa., Ralph Ray of Rochester, Pa., Art Espey, of Elmira, N. Y., J. J. Denver of Pittsburgh, Peter J. McGurk, chief of the Swissdale, Pa., department; J. C. Cipri of East Pittsburgh; J. M. Poulton, of Warren, O., retired assistant chief; Lester W. McClelland, Joe F. Replogle, and W. A. Hoffmaster of New Castle; A. H. Leck, of Stowe township; H. S. Hermes, of Sharpsburg, Pa., George Sparr, former assistant fire chief of the Pittsburgh fire department and Attorney M. C. Applebaum of Pittsburgh. The parade was a grand climax to a fine convention and the manner in which it was conducted reflects great credit upon the committee which had charge, headed by J. Myron Alice, chairman.

President James E. Thomas, of the Northern Pennsylvania Firemen's Association expressed his thanks today to all who assisted with the convention. President C. L. McMillen, of the New Castle Firemen's Association also commended the committees on the fine manner in which the convention and parade were carried out.

Someone robbed the Lawrence poolroom, 125 West Washington street, last night. The robbers stole a radio, candy machine and a peanut machine. They also stole a small amount of cash.

Police received a report today that some of the wood blocks in the South Mill street bridge are loose.

Mike Drazden, Butler, reported to police early Sunday morning he ran off the road at Butler avenue and Cascade street and damaged the lawn, shrubbery and grape arbor on the Paul Nikolett property.

A Musical Cinderella

A few short weeks ago the world seemed a cruel place to 16-year-old Ruth Bilde. Somer, forced to flee her home in Austria and seek refuge in America. On the boat, coming to America, Eddie Cantor heard her play the piano, signed her to a Hollywood contract. The modern Cinderella is pictured at the home of her brother in New York City, practicing for her "great chance".

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—Deputy Secretary of Mines Joseph J. Walsh has been asked by the governor's office to take over the duties of the late Secretary of Mines Michael J. Hartneady, who died suddenly a few weeks ago at his home in Nesquehoning.

Walsh said his taking over of Hartneady's duties did not make him a member of the commission appointed by Governor Earle to investigate the Volpe mine disaster of June 2 at which 10 men lost their lives.

Walsh said he would handle the duties of secretary of mines until the end of Hartneady's unexpired term. Walsh is considered to be in the forefront for the position of successor to Hartneady in the event Governor Earle decides to appoint one.

Republican leaders "jumped the gun" on the "Little New Deal" of Governor Earle by firing opening broadsides at a young Republican state convention a week prior to the Hershey opening of the Democrats.

Judge Arthur H. James and Republican U. S. Senator James J. Davis, blasted away at both Governor Earle and President Roosevelt.

When the legislature reconvenes on September 6 the joint legislative committee studying the effects of state and federal taxation upon business and industry in the state may make its report to the General Assembly.

Chairman John H. Dent declared that a voluminous amount of material has been compiled. The tax-payers' forum of Pennsylvania has gone on record as opposing further tax abatement at this time "because continued abatement of penalties as an established legislative policy encourages delinquency and penalizes those who have paid their taxes when due and those with penalties and interest added."

The forum has also taken a "mild" stand in favor of extension of a sound system of civil service throughout the state government and an "equally strong stand against any efforts that may be made to weaken or destroy what little headway has been made in the state service against the spoils system."

New College Prep Plan Doesn't Cut Length Of High School Courses

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—An eye-witness, that new plan of the State Department of Public Instruction to cut college prep courses to three years in high school doesn't mean there'll be a year less of high school.

It all boiled down to this today, as far as students were concerned: it was only a difference in buildings.

H. Frank Hare, chief of secondary education in the public instruction department, explained that under the new plan only the last three years of high school would be recognized as necessary for college entrance.

But the first year of high school would still remain the only difference being that credits gained in that year would not count toward college preparation.

"Owing to the junior high school, most of our students attend the first six grades of elementary training in one building, the next three in a junior high school building and the last three in a senior high school," it was explained to Pennsylvania educators attending a regional conference here. It would be the three years spent in senior high school that would count now.

Thus, under the new plan, only 12 hours of credit would be required for college entrance, instead of 16 as at present. The plan would be in effect in the tenth and eleventh grades this year and in the twelfth next year.

But three years of high school? Shucks, no!

hours, the five-day week and the public need for inexpensive, corner lot recreation millions took up the putting.

The main difference between softball and ordinary baseball is that the former has a ten-man team, the extra man being a sort of roving outfielder. So far, they have male umpires. But what about chivalry and all that when some lady Joe DiMaggio socks the umpire? It can happen here.

I have often thought somebody might make a good newspaper feature called "Missing Today." It would provide a daily background of great personalities of significance in the run of the news. And my selection today would be John Sharp Williams, for the back-drop of this Georgia senatorial purge. Senator Walter George, a personage of erudition and dignity, is putting up a splendid two-fisted fight. But one can't help thinking of the fireworks John Sharp Williams would touch off in a scrap like that. The lean, wizened gentleman from Mississippi, in the senate for 40 years, was the ace battler of any age, weight or class among statesmen of his day. He was in and of the deep South, this sage of Yazoo City, Miss., but there were no tendrils of swamp oak in his hair and he never found it necessary to be ostentatiously homespun or snare votes by bad grammar. He picked many a roaring Behemoth with a rapier thrust of his biting wit, and his was the fastest tierce and riposte in senatorial debate ever known at Washington. A fast workout in the senate by John Sharp Williams was worth $5 top in the gallery any day—if they had been charging admission. I don't know just how he would work into this Georgia rowdy-dowdy, but somehow I wish he were there.

The other day at lunch, my host and I talked about Andrew Lengyel of Passaic, N. J., the sweetstake winner of two years ago, who had just committed suicide, after blowing in his money. We agreed that this get-rich-quick thing was bad business and, between us, we voiced a nice little bit of sympathy about the devaluation of the country—nobody wanting to work any more and young people corrupted by the phantom lure of easy gain, and so on and so on. The talk turned to other things and when luncheon was finished we had forgotten all this.

As my friend took out his wallet to pay the check, a bit of cardboard fluttered out. His face lit with a bright, eager look as he picked it up. "Sweetstakes ticket," he said. "I'm going to town on that. Just watch my smoke."

It seemed to me that was a natural foot-note for "The Human Side of the News."

Have You Read?

"Courage," by Mrs. Adolphine Fletcher Terry is a story that reaches straight to the heart and that the library is glad to offer. It is a mother's account of rearing a daughter who was painfully handicapped from birth. It is told in a simple, honest way, with no play for sympathy, and without undue introspection or emotion. Mothers of handicapped children will find practical help in this book, and its poignant, direct appeal includes people of all ages.

This book tells of the proud, happy young mother's attitude toward the situation with which she is unexpectedly confronted, her methods of protesting and guiding the child, and the child's development. The mother had to learn many spiritual lessons, chiefly to give up all dreams of what might have been, and accept cheerfully what was. Also, to overcome hatred and resentment toward normal children.

Anne, the afflicted daughter, is the second of four children. Her education, her medical care, her discipline, her hiking, her pets, her love of the water and success with swimming, the baby Sandy that she took home from the hospital when she was fourteen because she adored children, and all the other events of her early life are told in this book.

The fullness and beauty of the lives of this mother and daughter offers a true inspiration to every living person. Mrs. Terry discovered how an afflicted child might become a challenge to one's best abilities.

Mrs. Terry writes under the pen name of Mary Lindsey.

Radicals have no respect for American institutions. Notice what awful things they say about Mr. Ford.

Charles E. Johnson to Everett G. McCracken, Neshango township, $1. Home Owners Loan corporation to Clyde C. Green, second ward, $5,000.

In the estate of Joseph S. Boyer, late of South Woodbury township, Bedford county, Pa., a certificate showing that Emma Boyer was appointed administrator, has been filed at the register and recorder's office here, owing to decedent's interests in Lawrence county.

The first hunting license to be issued at the county treasurer's office was taken out by John Lagwants of Mahoningtown, R. D. 8. Under the new system of numbering, it bore the number E. 9700. To date nine licenses have been issued. It is expected that from now on until the hunting season opens the number of licenses to be issued will show weekly increases.

A certiorari directed to Alderman L. C. Manze has been entered in the probatory office in the case of Sabina Gould of 456 East Washington street against Howard Grundy of 419 Valley street, charged with trespass. Plaintiff claims that defendant trespassed on grounds which had been posted.

County Controller Frank Hill, who attended the state controllers' convention at Erie county last week, says that a resolution was passed condemning a proposed change in the manner of filling certain county offices. The bill would abolish, as elective offices, that of coroner, register and recorder and probatory and clerk of courts. Under its provisions they would become appointive offices, presumably from state headquarters, although the bill does not specifically state, Before it could become a law it would have to pass two sessions of the legislature and be voted upon by the people. Those attending the convention were unanimous in the opinion that it would be a bad thing for the different counties of Pennsylvania, and a part of a scheme to control local affairs from Harrisburg.

Will of the late Jane McGary of Neshamock township has been entered for probate at the office of Register and Recorder Orville Potter. Decedent leaves her household equipment to her three daughters, Lillie McGary, Lucy Sargent and Margaret McGary. She directs that all her other property be sold and the proceeds divided into one-ninths and distributed to sons and daughters as follows: Lowery Mc-

Gary, Lucy Sargent, Grace Mockel, Lillie McGary, William McGary, Margaret McGary, George McGary and Charles McGary. Another one-ninth goes to Violet McGary and William McGary, children of a deceased son, Allen McGary. A son, Earl McGary, is not mentioned in the distribution for the reason that he had already been given his share of the estate. Margaret McGary is named as executrix.

For years certain individuals have received certain hunting license numbers, No. 13 and No. 1 being special favorites. This year there are no county numbers.

Letters of administration in the estate of Alice R. Weaver, late of this city, have been granted by Register and Recorder Orville Potter to James B. Matthews. Letters testamentary in the estate of the late Emily Carpenter have been granted to Chester P. Reynolds. Letters of administration in the estate of the late Jennie Seiffert of Ellwood City have been granted to Walter Seiffert. Letters testamentary in the estate of the late J. B. Johnston of Wilmington township have been granted to John H. Johnston and Franklin S. Johnston.

Seeking New Record For Flight Across Continent

Mark Of Ten Hours Is Goal

Major DeSeversky Leaves New York In Record Breaking Attempt

EXPECTS TO FLY AT 12,000 FEET

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Determined to establish a new mark of 10 hours or less for an east-west trans-continental hop, Major Alexander P. DeSeversky lifted his sleek military-type monoplane off Floyd Bennett field at 7:38 a. m. (E. D. T.) today.

The airplane manufacturer hopes to land at Union Airport, Burbank, Calif., after a possible refueling stop at Kansas City, and cut the 11-hour, 30-minute mark established by Col. Roscoe Turner by a good margin. Turner's mark has stood since July 1, 1933.

The all-metal ship, its entire wing utilized for fuel tanks which carried 550 gallons of gasoline, left the runway with ease. A bright sun shone and DeSeversky immediately headed westward, gaining altitude as the ship disappeared in an early morning haze. Before departing, he said he expected to fly at approximately 12,000 feet.

The plane is powered by a single twin row 1,250 horsepower Wasp motor.

Tell him he speeds like an imbecile and he is flattered. Tell him he has other driving faults and he is insulted.

Once Toast Of Two Continents Dies In Poverty

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Aug. 29.—May Yone, once the beautiful toast of two continents as the owner of the great Hope diamond and a member of the British peerage, slept peacefully in death today.

She outlived the wealth and romances, and ended her days in comparative poverty, earning a meager livelihood as a scrubwoman, housekeeper and WPA research worker. She died early Sunday in the arms of her husband, Capt. John A. Smuts, retired British army officer, in their Roxbury tenement. She was in her 72nd year.

When council met in City hall today City Engineer Glenn R. Throop informed council that the Frederick John Taylor building in Grove street has been completed and is ready and safe for occupancy.

According to Throop the work, following the falling of a wall and the fatality to the owner last year, was done according to registered architects and all requests of the city were fulfilled.

Three Injured In Crash Of Airplane

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Upon leaving for an airplane ride Albert Kuchis, 27, jokingly told his family: "I'll drop my hat when we fly over."

Kuchis directed Pilot Ray Chevedden to the house. They soared low and Kuchis leaned over, tossing his hat to his wife, Ella, and their friends grouped on the front lawn.

A moment later the motor sputtered and the plane went into a spin. It crashed in a vacant lot 400 feet away. Kuchis, the pilot and a third passenger were critically injured.

"His collection of old books represents the earnings of a lifetime." That is also true of our old check books.

Will Destroy Seized Firearms

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—Following its policy to destroy all worthless and unsafe firearms seized, the game commission recently authorized the destruction of over 100 pounds of confiscated shotguns and rifles taken from unscrupulous citizens over a period of several months. The law authorizing the commission to dispose of unsafe, confiscated firearms was termed "a great step forward in reducing hunting accidents" by Col. Nicholas Biddle, president of the Pennsylvania game commission.

Too many hunters go ahead without first testing the weapons they purchase or even looking at them to see if they are loaded. "Far too many more," Biddle stated, "are using weapons of ancient vintage which, if we can judge by some of those picked up by our field officers, are likely to explode at any moment. Quite a few of them are handmade and in many cases the stocks are wired together."

EPWORTH MINISTER
HEARD AT CASCADE

"Christ on the Cross" was the subject of Dr. Harold A. McCurdy's sermon Sunday evening in Cascade Park, at the last of the outdoor community services sponsored by the New Castle Ministerial Association. The Epworth Methodist minister read the story found in Mark 15:15-33 concerning Christ's crown of thorns and his crucifixion. Congregational singing was led by James Clements. The Epworth chorus choir, directed by Mrs. J. M. Pyle, sang several numbers. Ministers assisting Dr. McCurdy in the service were Dr. John J. McIlvaine of the First Presbyterian church, Rev. Philip C. Pearson of Trinity Episcopal church, Dr. Frank S. Neigh and Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, pastor of the Central Christian church. It was a beautiful evening and the service at the bandstand was a perfect close to the inspiring series of Sunday evening outdoor services. There will be one more community interdenominational service next Sunday evening. It will take place in the First Presbyterian church, corner of Jefferson and Falls streets, and the pastor, Dr. McIlvaine, who is also president of the Ministerial Association, will be the speaker.

Bible Conference Brought To Close

Twelve Solid Weeks Of Services Ended Sunday At Calvary Tabernacle

After twelve weeks of Bible teaching and evangelistic preaching at the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle, the third all-summer Bible conference was ended on Sunday with five largely attended sessions, including Bible school at 11 o'clock, and Young People's Fellowship service at 6:30. Many out-of-town friends attended the preaching services as well as hundreds of local friends. Pastor R. J. Fredericks started this morning. The guest speaker was Rev. George Aldron Cole, pastor of the Prospect Avenue Baptist church in Buffalo. Pastor Fredericks says that due to the extremely practical discourses brought by the speaker, many are already asking for his return. Splendid vocal and instrumental music was provided by Marian Butler, Merle Watkins, the girls' trio of the Baptist church of McDonald, O., John Fleck, Eloise Jacob, Peggy Adams, Mrs. Joseph Bailey, Homer Emory, Charlie Harris and the tabernacle orchestra.

Rev. Fredericks announces that work on the basement of the new Calvary Gospel Tabernacle to be built on Vozan street, will begin on either Wednesday or Thursday morning. The capacity of the auditorium he says will be between 700 and 800. After its completion many prominent evangelists and Bible teachers will be invited to preach there. A practical Christian workers Bible institute will also be one of the regular features of the new work. Practically all of the work on the new tabernacle will be done by volunteer workers.

N. Y. A. Wins From Nobils And Become Tournery Champions

Score Is 5 To 2 Sunday Before Over 5,000 Fans At Radiator Field, Isabella Stars

N. Y. A. Will Go To Pittsburgh For Elimination Game Crisci Says

Before the biggest crowd that ever saw a softball game in New Castle, estimated at over the 5,000 mark, the N. Y. A. team battled its way to the City-County tournery championship over the hard fighting Nobils team 5 to 2 with Joe Isabella on the hill and giving the most masterful exhibition of pitching in his past 10 years of softball.

The N. Y. A. team, coached by John Rubels, took the lead at the end of the third inning with a three-run attack and the game was just about over. The N. Y. A. team led by Captain Franklin "Frub" Crisci played heads-up ball all the way. They fielded fine. They gave Isabella every encouragement to keep crushing them Nobils off.

Go To Pittsburgh
Young Roger Maggie, the lad who beat the N. Y. A. before, was shelved off the hill in the third inning and Sammy Pezzone held the N. Y. A. to two runs in the last five frames. Willie Rung was the batting star for the N. Y. A. with three hits, while Vrabie hit a slashing triple and so did Dutkin. Pia banged out a double.

The Nobils were kept off the home plate until the first of the seventh and then they got both of their runs. Ted Turco and Frankie Cople were the only Nobils able to solve Isabella for extra-base socks. Jackie Jones played a bang-up game for the Nobils in the field, making a catch of a hard-hit liner that was marked for a homer.

The N. Y. A. team will now go to Pittsburgh to represent Lawrence county in the Western Pennsylvania Regional championship play-offs. The game is Wednesday.

Fine Cooperation
Commissioner Franklin Crisci wishes to thank the crowd for staying off the playing field, also Dundo Ambrosia for having the Rad field in tip-top shape for the championship game, also to the umpires and supervisors for their fine work in the series. Coach Rubels also adds his thanks for the cooperation shown.

The N. Y. A. team will go to Pittsburgh with the best wishes of all of the tournament teams and that of Manager Italo Amode of the Nobils, one of the first to congratulate Crisci and Rubels when the game had ended Sunday.

Nobils-Rads To Open Up Series

City Softball Championship At Stake In Coming Series, First Game Wednesday

UMPIRES NAMED BY CRISCI TODAY

The city softball championship will be at stake this week as the Nobils and Radiators battle it out in a five-game series starting Wednesday night at Gaston park at 5:30 o'clock. Arrangements for the series was made Sunday by President Franklin Crisci, Managers Ambrosia and Amode following the Nobils defeat at the hands of the N. Y. A. team.

Umpires Named.
Crisci has named the following umpires to work the games in the series this week:

Wednesday—Gaston park, Tippy Richards at plate, Tommy Conti at first, Ray Campoli at third.
Friday—At Radiator field, Ray Campoli back of plate, Tippy Richards at first, Tommy Conti at third. Sunday at Gaston park—Tommy Conti at the plate, Ray Campoli at first, Tippy Richards at third.

The coming series will no doubt be hard fought. The Rads were forced out of the city-county tournery by the Nobils and will be after some revenge in this series.

Nobils Have Edge.
Both Managers Ambrosia of the Rads and Amode of the Nobils are confident as the series is about to start.

The Nobils and Rads have met five times this year and the Nobils hold the edge at three to two. The Nobils will use Norm Bishara, Lee Giarlo, DeCaprio, the Yerage brothers and Polenick in the city series.

Al Jones New Tennis Champ

Lanky South Sider Trims Allan Morrow To Win 1938 Singles Laurels

Playing spectacularly throughout, Al Jones, lanky South Sider, annexed the 1938 singles championship of Lawrence county by defeating Allan Morrow in straight sets, Saturday.

Saturday afternoon at Glenmore court, the doubles finals will be played. Following the match, singles and doubles winners and runners-up will be awarded trophies. Ed Connerly will be in charge of the presentation ceremonies.

Buckowski Gets Hole-In-One

Stanley Buckowski, a caddy at the Castle Hills golf course got the biggest thrill of his life Saturday afternoon, a hole-in-one on the short 166-yard par three No. 7 hole. He used a six-iron and the ball hitting in front of the green ran true for the hole and dropped in.
Playing with Buckowski at the time and verifying the shot was Bill Myron and Wilson Grimm. C. E. "Red" Davis of the New Castle News also witnessed the feat.
Buckowski was not unnerved by his freak shot, but finished the first nine and recorded a very lovely 35 card which is par for the front nine at Castle Hills.

Tigers With Picato In Box Beat Dory Gunnelt To Take Series Lead 3 To 1

The West Side Tigers are quite jubilant over the 2 to 0 victory that Picato pitched yesterday at Ryantown over Dory Gunnelt, the Ryantown ace.

D. Bevan, Porada and Bill Gall did the sweating that gave the Tigers their victory. Mike Lintz had the only extra-base sock allowed by Picato. The Tigers got one in the first and one in the eighth, and all the while kept the Ryantowns from getting closer than third base.
Gunnelt really deserved a better fate as he whiffed nine batters and gave out six hits, but was wild, issuing five walks.

Eight Glove Bouts Tonight

Several Knockout 'Artists' Calendered For Action Here

FIRST BATTLE TO START AT 8:30 P. M.

Convention week having ended Saturday, townfolk may find time to focus their eyes tonight on 15 scrappers in eight bouts to be staged by the Jefferson A. C., in the Grove Street playground. The first bell will ring at 8:30 p. m. Judging from the reputations of some of the battlers the crowd tonight should by far surpass that of one week ago.

The likelihood of knockouts is good. The heavyweights, Luke Smith and Luther Shaffer are said to possess a sock capable of putting opponents hors de combat. Cusie Porada, cf and Glenn Karabinos, cussies a similar punch and Joe Gaynor who battles Dick Ferrand has demonstrated his kayo wallop here.

Earl Cavanaugh, the state amateur featherweight champion, is said to possess considerable class. He is carded against Tommy Murray of Follansbee reportedly one of the best 126 pounders in West Virginia. It will be the first appearance of the champion here and naturally his fighting will be watched closely.

Welmont White, a bantamweight Golden Gloves winner at McKeesport recently, will tackle Joe McKenna of Pittsburgh. Like Shaffer, Cavanaugh, Murray and several others on the card, they will be making their first appearance here.

Fans always like to see new faces. No doubt they will put up a fast fight.

TONIGHT'S FIGHTS
Clinton Brown, Grove City vs. Emil Cannell, New Castle, 124 pounds.

Sam McCurdy, Grove City vs. Billy Reale, Princeton, 155 pounds.

Armand Covelli, New Castle vs. Kid Harvey, Grove City, 145 pounds.

Joe Gaynor, Bethany College vs. Dick Ferrand, Pittsburgh, 160 pounds.

Joe McKenna, Pittsburgh vs. Welmont White, McKeesport, 118 pounds.

Cusie Porada, Ellwood City vs. Glenn Karabinos, Follansbee, 138 pounds.

Luke Smith, Follansbee vs. Luther Shaffer, W. & J. college, heavyweights.

Earl Cavanaugh, Pittsburgh vs. Tommy Murray, Follansbee, 128 pounds.

Emil Cannell of this city, who will open the fistic entertainment, already has won two fights. He will fight Clinton Brown, a newcomer from Grove City. Billy Reale, a Princeton lad who has been winning consistently, will take on Sam McCurdy, another newcomer from Grove City and Armand Covelli, this city, will fight Kid Harvey, also a Grove City lad.

Every pugilistic endeavor in the Grove Street playground has started promptly at 8:30 p. m. and the boys behind the scene, Clyde Lennox and Yankoo Pagley have their system down so pat there are no delays between bouts. In addition to this Lennox has been handling some of the fighters and is keenly interested in the amateurs going over big here.

As a result of the promptness of starting scraps and the rapid delivery of punches by the amateurs the fans have been patronizing the shows. It is likely that tonight's bouts made by Tom Leach will be replete with thrills and everybody will have enjoyed the fistic attraction.

New Castle High Gridders In Camp

Thirty-Five Young Candidates Go To Muddy Creek Falls Today

Only Sprinkling Of Veterans Left From Last Year, Bridy Is Worried

Bright and early this morning, to be exact about 8:30 o'clock, a bus load of young football candidates for New Castle high school 1939 grid team left Taggart Stadium for a week at camp at Muddy Creek Falls. The first workout in camp was held at 10 o'clock and by noon the boys were ready to eat.

In the camp party is 35 young hopefuls. Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh following the Saturday morning workout at the stadium, announced the names of those selected for the camp trip.

Veterans Are Scarce
Not many of the boys in camp this year were regulars last season. Rousseau the big tackle, Joe Gender, the quarterback and Lindy Lauro at fullback were the only boys that were rated as regulars last season.

There is a lot of work to be done. The team needs two guards, two end and center before they will be ready to open the season.

The few workouts at Taggart Field served to get Coach Bridenbaugh acquainted with some of the new material, but it is entirely too early to get a real line on what the team will look like this year.

Familiar Figure Missing
In the official party that will supervise the boys in camp were—Head Coach Bridenbaugh, Assistant Coaches G. Thomas, Bill Klee and Paul Cuba, and Faculty Manager Norman Nelson and Custodian of Equipment Robert Stewart. The old familiar figure of Ralph Humphrey Gardner for the past 29 years faculty manager at Senior high was missing this year.

Gardner will probably be in camp while the team is there for the purpose of assisting Mr. Nelson and giving him a few pointers on what the faculty managerial job is all about. There is plenty of work connected with the task.

Opening Game Sept. 14
It would not be surprising to see the boys indulge in a little scrimmage work on Tuesday afternoon. A week is not very long and Bridenbaugh wants to make the most of it. The afternoon workouts will start at 2:30 o'clock.

The team will break camp Saturday afternoon and return to New Castle and Taggart Stadium where next week the job of putting on the final touches will be made.

The first game is with Butler high here on Friday night, September 14.

Eleven Changes In 1938 Football Rules

Changes And Clarifications Affect 800 Member Schools Of PIAA

Coaches And Players Should Familiarize Themselves With Changes

BY TOM R. BRISLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association has announced 11 changes and clarifications in the football rules for its 800 member schools.

Dr. Frank P. Maguire, advisor of the board of control of the P. I. A. A. and chairman of the Research Committee of the National Federation of Football Rules Committees, outlined the changes and clarifications.

While none of the alterations were drastic, Dr. Maguire explained that coaches and players should familiarize themselves with them so that "bickering and argument would not hold-up or confuse play this fall."

Changes Outlined

The rule changes and clarifications as explained by Dr. Maguire were:

1.—Last year if a foul was committed while the ball was free, as from a punt, the ball was awarded to the offending team at the spot of the foul. This has been changed so that all fouls will be penalized by inflicting the appropriate distance penalty from the spot where the ball was put in play. It is to be understood, however, Dr. Maguire emphasized, that the offending team may decline the penalty if it is to its advantage to do so.

2.—Reduction from fifteen yards to five yards of the distance penalty or an insufficient pause after a shift. Consequently, it was stated, there is no difference in distance penalty when backfield men are illegally in motion whether the motion was the outgrowth of a shift or from a stationary position.

3.—A minor infraction of a forward pass behind the goal line cannot result in a touchback, except on the fourth down. In other words, Dr. Maguire explained, the team in possession of the ball, assuming it is first down, may ground four forward passes behind the goal line before losing the ball.

4.—Helmetless players were placed in two categories: (1) Non-participation until head protectors are obtained, carrying a five yard penalty; (2) Discarding of head protectors, resulting in a five yard penalty, out to distance penalty unless it is an excessive time-out. Dr. Maguire emphasized that discarding of a head protector "shall never result in a play penalty."

5.—If a team makes a fair catch at the end of any quarter the team making the fair catch may choose to execute the free kick at the end of that quarter or at the beginning of the next after changing goals.

6.—Substitutes are not required to appear to name officials at the beginning of the second half.

7.—Captains, as last year, may request to accept substitutes sent in by a coach. However, Dr. Maguire stated, if a substitute communicates with his teammates and then his captain refuses to accept him, "the (captain) shall be declared guilty of unsportsmanlike conduct and a distance penalty of 15 yards inflicted."

8.—The ball may never be put in play nearer than 15 yards to a side line. Exceptions to this rule allowed last year were abolished.

9.—A foul by the defensive team will not be offset by a minor incomplete forward pass by the offensive team unless it is a case of intentionally grounding the forward pass.

10.—If a player of the offensive team receives the snap from center while standing on or behind his end line, the defensive team shall have the option of a safety or the distance penalty for a player-out-of-bounds.

11.—It shall not be considered a shift when linemen drop from a standing position to a crouch position as long as they retain their relative ground positions.

One of the important perfume houses announces "air-cooled" summer sachet cases, one large for lingerie, and one smaller for the same garments; a stocking case which holds six pairs; handkerchief case and washcloth set. They are all delicately scented, of course, and would make lovely gifts for the bride-to-be or the girl who is going on a trip.

What does he think about present fighting? He simply smiles—that's how different it is now. Fighters go through a lot of procedures, such as were unknown in those days. A champ fought and didn't care who it was. Today, this titleholder won't fight this fellow, that fellow, or he won't fight until he gets so much rest, etc. It strikes Chip's funny bone. In those days men fought because they loved the game. In all our experience we have never encountered a fighter who loves the game more than Chip. Many happy returns to one of the greatest fighters of the past 30 years.

Dodgers Again Defeat Pirates As Giants Win

Pirates Lead Is Out To Four And Half Games, Greenberg Hits 45 Homer

By ANTHONY J. PUGLIESE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Topping the major league batmen with 45 home runs, hustling Hank Greenberg, slugging Detroit first baseman, today faced the final month of the baseball season with an excellent chance of eclipsing Babe Ruth's homer record of 60 in one season.

Pressure will be heavy on Lanky Hank over the final month, especially due to his realization that the old bambino, in setting his mark would up the 1927 season with 17 home runs in September. Greenberg is well ahead of the Babe who hit his 45th roundtripper on September 6 of that year. Ruth also added 46 and 47 that day and came along with a pair the following day.

Greenberg's best month so far was July, during which he cracked out 15. He started in April with three, hit nine and ten in May and June respectively and got eight so far this month. With 35 games left on the Tiger's schedule, Hank must hit for the circuit 16 times to surpass the Ruthian record.

Yanks Win Again

With Greenberg and Rudy York hitting home runs, the Tigers won a 4 to 3 ten inning game from the Red Sox when Mary Chapman bled and scored on an infield hit. Ben Chapman homered for Boston.

The Yankees continued their victory march as Tommy Henrich cracked out his 17th and 18th home runs—his fourth in two days—to aid in a 4 to 2 triumph over the Browns. Buck Newsum, of St. Louis held the Yankees to four hits, but Charley Ruffing, who yielded 12 blows including Beau Bell's homer, won his 19th game.

Buck Ross and Bud Thomas pitched the Athletics to a double victory over the White Sox 5 to 4 and 7 to 2.

The Indians triumphed 6 to 5 over the Senators as Mel Harder pitched his 13th victory.

The Pirates dropped to within four and a half games of the Giants by losing to the Dodgers, 8 to 5, while the New Yorkers beat the Red 7 to 3. Brooklyn mauling Russ Bauers and Joe Bowman for six runs in the first two frames.

Hal E. Tammacher, the sore arm held the Reds to six safeties to give the Giants their win. Billy Myers homered for the Reds.

The Cubs took a twin decision from the Phillies 6 to 5 in 11 innings and 3 to 1. Ken O'Dea homered for Chicago and Morrie Aronovich and Gilly Prack for the Phils in the opener.

Bob Leland held the Bees to three blows to give the Cardinals a 5 to 1 win in the opener, but Dick Brickner's solo homer with a five-hit shutout as the Bees took the nightcap, 2 to 0.

Pheasant Farm Has Best Year

All-Time High In Hatching
And Rearing Percentages
At Jordan Farm

FORTY-ONE THOUSAND
BIRDS ARE HATCHED

In Addition, 25,500 Eggs
Distributed To Sports-
men's Groups

The tenth season of actual game bird production, which has turned out to be the best season of such production on the Jordan State Game Farm at Harlansburg, began with the laying of the first egg of the season on March 21. Since that time the farm has been humming with activity, producing, setting and shipping ringneck pheasant eggs and hatchlings, shipping and brooding ringneck pheasant chicks and taking care of the thousands of young ringnecks after their removal from the brooders at six weeks old.

Each year's actual production activities begin on the game farm with the selection and mating of breeders in the early spring and continue until all birds to be raised are removed from the brooding field to the holding fields at the age of six weeks. During this period activities gradually increase step by step beginning with egg production and gradually adding incubation, egg shipping, chick brooding and chick shipping activities, reaching the peak of activity during late May or early June when all of these activities are under way at the same time from which time they again gradually taper off until the last of the young birds are removed from the brooders to the large wire covered holding fields where they grow up and develop good strong wings with which to escape from predators when liberated in the wild. Some of these birds are distributed for liberation during the late summer at twelve weeks of age and the balance are placed in the winter holding fields and held over for spring liberation and for use as breeders on the farm the following season.

15,000 Held At Farm
Considering each of the several activities involved in the actual production of ringneck pheasants in the order in which they are completed during the season, this year's production on the Jordan State Game Farm to date stands at 25,588 ringneck pheasant eggs and 22,986 ringneck pheasants day old chicks distributed to sportsmen in western Pennsylvania for raising birds which must be liberated on grounds open to public hunting. 3,500 young birds have been shipped out for liberation and 15,000 birds are now in the holding pens at the farm, about 3,000 of which will be required for selection of next year's breeders for the farm. It is not yet known whether any more young birds will be liberated this fall, but at least 7,000 of those now on hand will be held over winter at the farm for liberation next spring.

Spring Release Successful
The policy of holding a large number of pheasants over winter on the state game farms to be liberated in the spring thus allowing them a breeding season in the wild before facing the hazards of a hunting season was inaugurated by the Pennsylvania Game Commission in 1938 and has proven to be the most successful step taken toward the increase of ringneck pheasants in the wilds of Pennsylvania since the change from the old hen hatching-brooding method to the incubator-brooder method of raising pheasants on the state game farms in 1933.

Removal All-Time High
The removal of the last of the young pheasants from the brooders last week completed the tenth brooding season on the Jordan State Game Farm, which, like this year's hatching season, was completed with the best season's record attained since the farm was established. During the hatching season a total of 56,538 ringneck eggs were set at the farm of which 49,328 were fertile and from which 41,200 chicks were hatched, a hatching average of 85.25 per cent of fertile eggs, the highest season's average ever attained at the farm. A total of 18,533 ringneck pheasant chicks were placed in the farm's fifty brooder houses, many of them being filled the second time, from which 17,648 were raised through the critical six weeks brooding period and were removed to the holding fields, the total loss during the six weeks brooding period being .885 birds or only 4.77 per cent of those placed in the brooders which is about three per cent less loss than the best previous year.

Means Much To Hunters
The ringneck pheasant which is not a native of the American continent, and was practically unknown in Pennsylvania prior to 1915 is now so widely and abundantly distributed throughout the state that 373,000 legal male birds of this species were killed during the 1937 hunting season, only as a result of propagating and restocking activities carried on by the game commission and interested sportsmen, and has not only furnished a great amount of sport for every class of small game hunter but has aided greatly in relieving some native game birds such as the bob white, quail and the grouse of some of the hunting.

Operation of the state game farms is financed exclusively by the game fund, a fund maintained chiefly through the sale of hunting licenses and is carried on at no cost to the taxpayer. Game raised on the state farms or from eggs or chicks furnished by them must therefore be liberated upon lands which are not posted, thus allowing all properly licensed hunters an equal chance to hunt it.

1000 CHICKENS BURNED
MERCER, Aug. 29.—More than 1,000 chickens were cremated Friday night when fire destroyed a year-old three-story chicken house on the farm of F. O. Bortz, on the Perry highway, south of Fairview, with a loss of approximately $3000.
